Pennypack Trust was established in 1970.

2020 marks 50 years of preserving and restoring land for this and future generations.

Over the last half-century, we have assembled 852 acres of diverse landscape through a combination of land purchase and private property donation by generous and environmentally minded citizens that want to see land protected and managed responsibly.

Our land trust serves the community by providing space for recreation, habitat respite for animals, replenishing groundwater that we rely on for drinking water, and buffering storm-water runoff, which keeps our creeks clean.

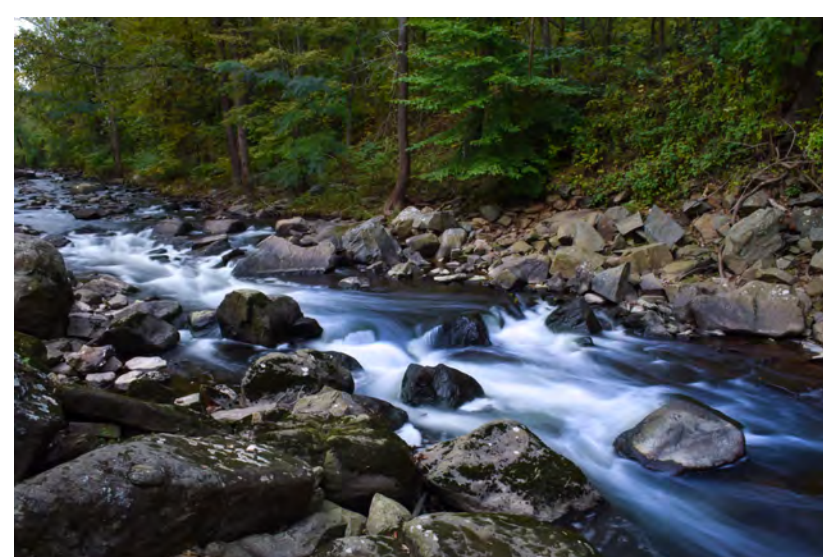

The Land Trust Model

Most people consider forests, parks and other open spaces as government owned, but that's not always true.

As a private, non-profit, member-based organization, we do not receive any funding from federal, state or county governments.

We are entirely privately owned, yet completely open to the public. With open space protection as our central mission, we remain ever vigilant in curbing development and preserving habitat.

Protected open spaces throughout the country are made possible by the cooperation and support of private property owners and member-supported land trusts like ours.

When you become a member of the Trust, you fundamentally become a guardian of this land and an investor of its growth. Please consider supporting us in the preservation of open space here at Pennypack Ecological Restoration Trust.

Plan Your Trip!

Now more than ever we are heading outdoors and reconnecting with nature. Open spaces provide services essential to our wellbeing; fresh air, clean water, recreation and aesthetic beauty.

While we do not require membership to use our trails, we greatly rely on membership to fund our operating costs, future land acquisition and restoration projects.

Without the support of our members, this wilderness preserve would not be functional or sustainable.
