NOVEMBER 2020 – JANUARY 2021

Coming Events

NOVEMBER 2020 – JANUARY 2021

Coming Events

November

The White-Tailed Rut Walk

Sunday, November 1, 7 – 9 a.m.

The term "rut" is often used to describe a boring, monotonous routine. But when talking about white-tailed deer, "rut" means something completely different: it refers to all behavior and activities associated with the breeding season. Learn how white-tailed deer rut and look for signs of mating activity such as primary scrapes and licked branches during a walk with Pennypack groundskeeper Kirk Laule. This program is geared for adults and is limited to 10 participants. Members free; non-members $10.

Free A Tree

Saturday, November 7, 10 a.m. – 12 noon

Join the Free-A-Tree Corps' effort to rescue our vine-infested trees. Bring leather work gloves and pruning shears (or borrow ours) and dress for outdoor work. Lunch is provided.

Photography Walk

Saturday, November 7, 8 – 10 a.m.

Join local photographers, Fran and Harris Brown, on a leisurely 2 hour walk around the Pennypack Preserve, stopping to photograph the flora, fauna, and anything else that interests you. We'll discuss exposure, equipment, composition, and post-processing. All skill levels are welcome, as are all camera types. The walk is limited to 8 participants. Members: Free. Non-Members $10.

Ecology Walk

Sunday, November 8, 2 – 4:30 p.m.

Join Executive Director, Chris Mendel, on a hike focusing on the restoration efforts of the Pennypack Trust. This year's walk will give attendees exclusive access to our largest forest restoration efforts to date totaling over 22 acres. This area has never been open to the public before. Be prepared to walk over 3 miles in the course of the hike. Limit: 15 participants. Members: Free. Non-Members $10.

HIKE, EXPLORE & CELEBRATE 50 YEARS

Thursday – Sunday, November 13-15, dawn to dusk

Enjoy the trust on its actual 50th birthday. Signs will provide history at special points of interest to guide your hike. Look for our on-line clothing advertisement soon. Stop by the Visitors Center in your commemorative clothing to pick up your special free gift!

Pre-School Nature Club

Thursday, November 12, 10 – 11 a.m.

Bring your children ages 2-5 to enjoy nature-based lessons, activities and play using the Pennypack Preserve as a classroom. Hike through meadows, skip over puddles and investigate wildlife. Nature Club, led by environmental educator Kevin Roth, is held the second Thursday of each month. Members free; non-members $10 per family.

Fly Fishing 101- Session 1

Thursday, November 12, 7 – 9 p.m.

Learn the basics of fly fishing from members of the South East Montgomery County chapter of Trout Unlimited. This two-part course will have an indoor and outdoor session. The indoor session will cover the basic equipment and techniques needed to get started. The outdoor session will cover the basics of preparing your rod, casting, and fishing on the Pennypack Creek. This program is limited to 10 people. Must be able to attend both sessions to register. Rod and reel combinations will be provided for the session or bring your own. Members: $50. Non-members: $85 (includes 1 year membership to the Trust).
